Subject: It's supposed to be about SCIENCE!

So, the enormous ego of a tiny, demented man is more important than the science behind weather forecasting? More important than sharing accurate information with the people of Alabama about the potential (or LACK of potential) for a dangerous weather event? You don't deserve the office you hold. Your job is to serve the public, not to cater to the feeble-minded charlatan in the White House. You should be ashamed.
