Subject: Re: Flow Survival (what you were thinking?)

Thanks for cleaning up some of the grammar issues I mistakenly brought in.

Is there a more specific condition we can refer to wrt the occurrence of the flow reductions than saying they would happen in years when e-of-sept storage is lowest?

Within the attached document is a brief write-up of the Flow/Survival relationship. I had drafted it thinking it could go right before Table 2.5.2-18 in section 2.5.2.3.4.1 Fall and Winter Refill and Redd Maintenance. Brian has reviewed and I've incorporated his comments and revisions.

Let me know what you think and then I'll work it into the I&S. It will be repetitive with your Effect Section write-up but that's what you get when the ship is sinking.

Can you take a look at the attached?

Thanks Evan
