- Grants Online has been updated to download and process the new SF-424, version 4 form. NOTE: Because updates have not been made to the CBS component of the grants processing system, version 4 of the SF-424 is currently unavailable for use in the Grants Online production environment. [JIRA: GOL-1096]

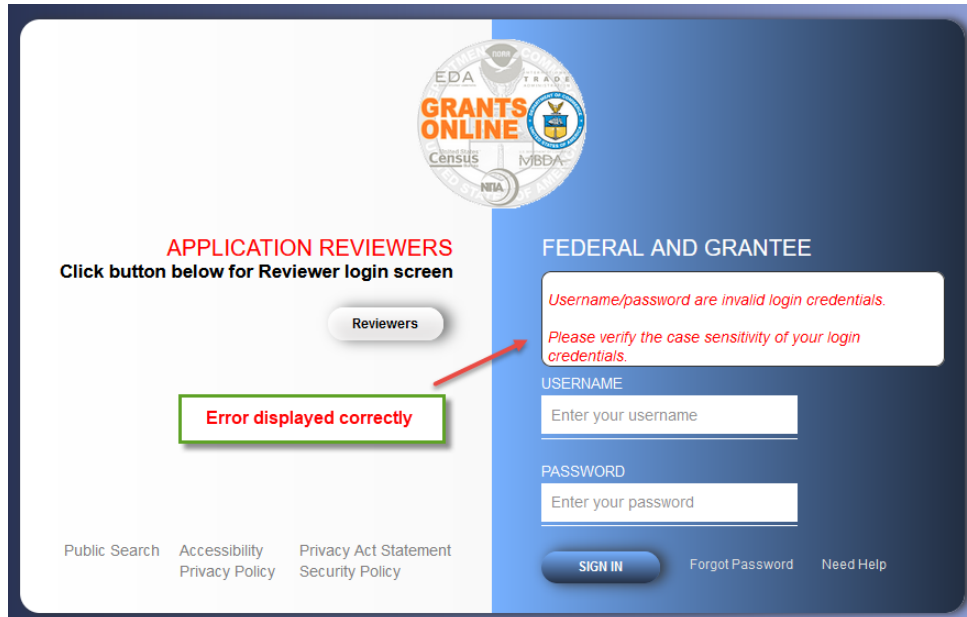

- The possible error message that displays when a user does not accurately enter the username and password was updated. [JIRA: GOL-1100]

Possible error messages:

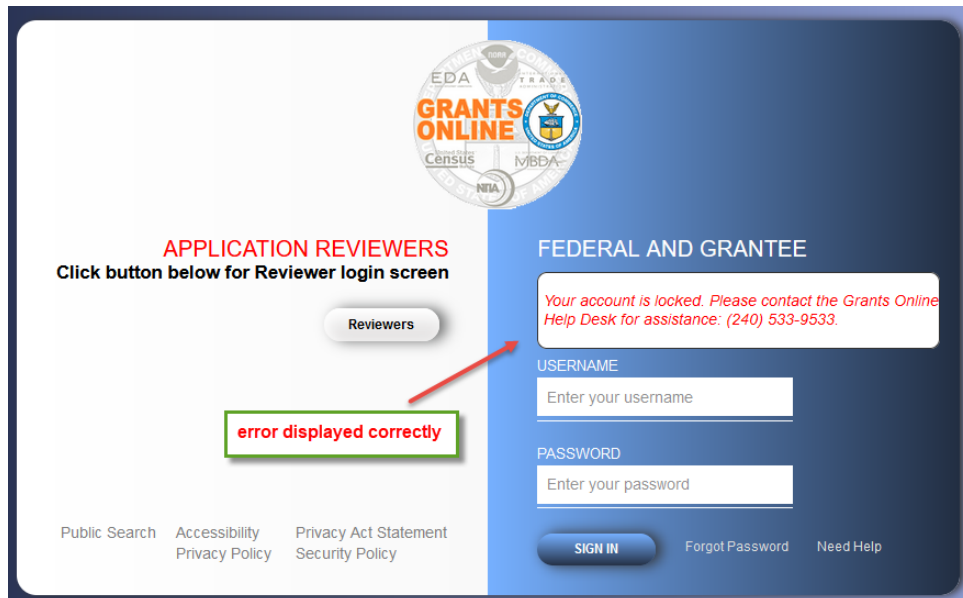

- Password has expired. Click "Forgot Password".

- b. Login credentials are invalid. Case sensitivity requirements were not met.

- c. The user account is locked. The user has incorrectly entered the username and/or password during three consecutive attempts to log in.

- d. To comply with Department of Commerce security requirements, the Grants Online user password must be reset every 60 days. The message “Your password expires in ‘XX’ days”, is visible when the user has fifteen or fewer days to update the password. In this example, the current password has been active for 59 days.

6. The business rules for a returned Performance Progress Report (PPR) or Research Performance Progress Report (RPPR) have been updated to correspond to the rules applied to a returned Federal Financial Report. When the PPR or RPPR is returned to a Grantee, that user has an additional 30 days to address any concerns communicated with the returned report. After 30 days the status of the report is delinquent.
