Dr. Watkins,
I greatly appreciate your interest in this issue. We work for you and all citizens, and owe you our best.
Thank you,
CM

I only just learned of your note to the scientist at the agency. I sent the message below before I read your message. As a native of coastal Louisiana and a current resident of coastal Massachusetts, I'll favor your statements regarding meteorology over the statements of politicians on any day. Thanks for your leadership and the clarity of your statement to the honest, hard-working staff.

Regards,

Hampton Watkins, PhD

Dr. Jacobs:

As a professional colleague (MIT PhD in Earth Atmospheric & Planetary Sciences) and survivor of the corporate dysfunction and malfeasance (WorldCom) I can understand your desire to protect the well-being of your family and your staff. However, throwing science and the NOAA professionals under the bus is a step too far. I wish you all the best, but preservation of honor demands your departure from your position of Acting Administrator.
