

Craig McLean - NOAA Federal

From: Craig McLean - NOAA Federal
Sent: Tuesday, September 10, 2019 5:03 PM
To: Monica Baca
Subject: Re: False weather reports?

Thank you, Ms. Baca.

I share your concerns and that is why I am reinforcing the importance of scientific integrity. The current head of NOAA is Dr. Neil Jacobs, and he has been appointed as the acting Administrator.

Thank you for your message.

CM

On Tue, Sep 10, 2019 at 7:07 AM Monica Baca <(b)(6)> wrote:

Hello, I'm unsure if NOAA has a director, I was looking online for one but couldn't seem to find one. I just wanted to express my concern to someone at the head of the administration.

Citizens of the United States depend on the forecast for our lives, especially with hurricane Dorian hitting last week. President Trump clearly added his own mark to the forecast map, which can make many people, worried, scared, frantic that a deadly storm can reach them. Even Alabama came out disputing that. My issue is how can NOAA be trusted if it backs up such false claims. I'm just a concerned citizen.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Monica M. Baca

--

Craig N. McLean
Assistant Administrator
Oceanic and Atmospheric Research
National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration
U.S. Department of Commerce
1315 East West Highway
Silver Spring, MD 20910
Office: 301-713-2458