Jeni,

Thank you for your message and your fortitude. The people in our community — government, academics, industry, and weather media, are pure of heart and all pull in the same direction. I'm grateful that we have such a unified community and proud to be part of it. Thank you for engaging with supportive opinions. Best wishes to the amazing team, all,
Craig

Craig,

The last few days have been crazy in our field.

The AMS issued a response to the first NOAA HQ (attributed) Tweet:
