

Rob Thompson

From: Rob Thompson
Sent: Monday, September 9, 2019 11:12 AM
To: christopher.vaccaro@noaa.gov
Subject: Blunder

I've been a long time fan of NOAA, and even though I teach composition and literature, I incorporate your forecasts, research, science into my class discussions and assignments regularly. (I've also been dubbed my school's "snow day forecaster" because of your reliability.) This blunder your spokesperson committed this past weekend in an attempt to smooth things over for the buffoonery of President Trump in regards to his claim that Dorian would hit Alabama, suddenly throws your reliability and my trust and confidence in the administration of NOAA in deep doubt. Your scientists and the American people need a government institute we can believe in...the decision of last weekend is yet another blow to democracy. I don't think our country can take many more...be daring, be honest. Don't become part of the problem.

--

Rob Thompson

Medina High School
Language Arts
thompsor@medinabees.org

University of Akron
English Department
rct@uakron.edu

NOTICE: This e-mail message, including any attachments, is for the sole use of the intended recipient(s) and may contain confidential and/or privileged information, as defined by State and Federal laws. If you are not the intended recipient or an agent of the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that you received this message in error and any review, disclosure, copying, printing, distribution, dissemination, or the taking of any action in reliance on the contents of the information contained herein is strictly prohibited. If you received this e-mail message in error, please notify the sender by return e-mail, and immediately and permanently delete the original from your computer and destroy all copies of this communication. Thank you.

PLEASE NOTE: This e-mail message, and any response to it shall be archived for later retrieval and is subject to retention, disclosure, and disposal in accordance with Board Policy and State law.