Congratulations! The NOAA has managed to politicize itself and bend to the will of a president whose hobbies consist of: lying, gaslighting, and inciting complete chaos. In seconds, you squandered your credibility and tossed away the integrity of your organization for an absolute mad man. Why in the hell should anyone believe the NOAA about anything again? Is a tornado coming? Not sure, let's see what Trump says first? Is there really a climate crisis? We have all of these brilliant scientists but what does the White House lunatic think about it? Lastly, throwing the NWS under a bus is absolutely disgusting and all of you should hang your heads in shame. Gross. All of it.
