

Geminidave

From: Geminidave
Sent: Monday, September 9, 2019 3:50 PM
To: julie.roberts@noaa.gov
Subject: Fwd: Alabama-Dorian statement from NOAA
Attachments: noaastatement.jpg

Dear Julie Kay Roberts,

I still have not received a reply to my earlier email.

I must admit I did not sign my first statement and I am sorry. My name is David Larimer. I live in Melbourne, Florida and relied on the very accurate forecasts of the NWS/MLB and the National Hurricane Center to keep me safe during Dorian.

But can I trust future forecasts? Why am I worried? Here is the statement of Friday from your agency.

Once again, I expect a prompt reply.

--David

-----Original Message-----

From: David Larimer <(b)(6)>
To: julie.roberts <julie.roberts@noaa.gov>
Sent: Sat, Sep 7, 2019 1:27 pm
Subject: Alabama-Dorian statement from NOAA

Julie,

I sent this email yesterday and I have yet to hear back from you.

In addition to my first question (see below) I would like to know this:

Who wrote the statement of 9-6-19?

Who ordered the draft written and who authorized its release?

And did you know in advance of its content?

I expect as a taxpayer a prompt reply to my email.

My earlier email:

Can this be correct? You are wasting my taxpayer dollars on this Trump ego-sensitive issue? I am ashamed of your agency.

NOAA releases a Friday evening, unattributed statement disavowing the NWS Birmingham tweet from Sunday saying Dorian wasn't going to impact Alabama.