Hi Rosalie,

I wanted to let you know so you maybe don't have to spend too much time:
There were a few outstanding comments of yours that I left in the EnvB section (and remain in the "Master"), but that Garwin "removed" to send a clean copy out.

Those include:

- The climate change references (we are looking into this)
- Updating the species timing/distribution tables (someone is working on this)
- Issues with endnote citations looking wonky (we are aware and we have a person who is working on cleaning those up)

I just looked through what you sent, and all those have either been incorporated or remain flagged.

thanks for all your guidance!
