My apologies for not including you on the invite. I need some administrative support these day because I am spending way too much of my time setting up meetings that I should be! I really like your thinking on I&S and think that you should probably walk us through WR, SR, SH and GS instead of us splitting it up. Are you ok with that? I think it would be better for us to have one voice for consistency sake. I can add the color commentary!

I will set up a call for us to chat this afternoon.

Howard
