Hi Susan,

Here are 4 of the 5 references. The Davis 1975 study was referenced by the author of the RWQCB 2005 reference. So do I need to include it? The PDF is not available without a subscription to that journal, so I don't have access to it. I could rephrase my text to say "according to a study on DO referenced by RWQCB 2005..." and not include the Davis reference. What are your thoughts?

If it's best to include it, I believe NMFS has access to journals. I could ask Cathy about that.

Good morning, Kristin! Thanks so much for all of your work in helping me track these down - in addition to everything else you are doing!

I have gone through the references I received from you and also did a very thorough search of the library and still a few are unaccounted for in either place. I have attached the current list with the few remaining missing. Some you may have sent and I didn't receive and one I will find elsewhere.

Please take a look, get back to me with comments or references and then we can put this task to bed!

The list of missing references are the ones that you marked as "not in CVO library" in the effects doc. Consider them "found."

There are 2 references that I marked in the Word doc that I don't have access to (Sommer 2001 and Davis 1975). Do you have journal access?

Great! Thank you, Kristin. I will get busy making sure these are not in the library (new docs are appearing daily) and I will coordinate with Norma tomorrow on adding the ones you have provided.

When you say you made a list of the "missing" ones - are those the ones you cannot locate and I need pursue further?

Thanks again!

Hi Susan,

I've made a list (Word doc) of the missing references from the east side effects section. Please also see the attached PDF documents. Some may have uploaded using google drive, so let me know if you don't receive all 10 PDFs.

Thanks,
Kristin

Hi!

I just finished going through the above section. There are quite a few references which are not currently in the CVO Reference Library. I made comments where I had questions or need to have it added.

Thanks.
Susan

Hi All -

I would like to get into the East Side Div effects section and insert citations today and/or tomorrow.

Is anyone working on this document offline or know of someone who might be that isn't cc'd here? If so, I will wait until the most recent version is uploaded and free to do my work.

Thank you
Susan
