Evan,

First off, please place a copy of the attached into the relevant folder. I'm too lazy to access VPN right now to do it myself, especially since I've had VPN issues, but then again, it's close to 1:30 a.m., so not that lazy.

2 people working on the same base document is challenging, in my mind, as I don't want to make wholesale changes that are difficult to track and merge. So, rather, you will see that I provided a bunch of comments on suggested organization and content. I'm thinking that once we land on a good organization, that the content will flow, starting with moving text from the comments into the text (like an outline), then fleshing out into more details with coherent paragraphs and supporting figures and data.

We can sit down together in the a.m. and (1) walk through my suggested organization, (2) combine the 2 versions, then (3) we can knock out paragraphs, analyses, etc. 1 at a time and insert in their relevant sections. Cathy can jump in to the conversation at any point to check on status and next steps.

Hi Cathy and Garwin,

I'm signing-off temporarily, although I'll be back to it later. Here's how things stand:

- I'm continuing to work on version 5 of the effects section (in the ROCON drive) where today I mostly focused on providing the conceptual model context Maria had asked for. I also added to the LSNFH discussion (with Jon's help) re: removal of the passage program.
- Garwin is looking at version 4-GY (version control)
- Tomorrow Cathy and I will walk through a merged version (5 + 4-GY) to consider next steps(?)

(unrelated) Sarah said that the SRSP workshop was well attended and engaging which is good to hear.

Thanks

Evan
