Thanks Cathy – I'm downloading the materials now. Once I verify they have all successfully downloaded I will give you a call hopefully this afternoon to discuss next steps.

Hi Michelle --

I've got a bundle of documents for you at the Google Drive linked below. There were some large files and I decided to not wrangle with email. I've included a draft charge and list of questions, written in a way noting that they are subject to change. I've also included what we anticipated to provide as advance materials.

You will get an email from Google notifying you of access to this drive location. For future reference, know that it is also located here:

I'm in the office all week so please feel free to contact me!

Thanks!
Cathy
