Yeah, we're good. Joe and I talked about him working on it last week and this one, and then I'd take over next week. I will finish it up next week.

Joe mentioned yesterday that he got American River portions ready and together for you in what seemed to me to be a handoff. Are you comfortable with whatever plan you have worked out with him? Let me know if you want to talk, especially if I can help to press him to do particular deliverables to support your effort since it looks like you are somehow the "lead" on this now.
