Good afternoon Garwin,

My apologies for taking so long to get these to you. Here are the draft notes from workshop #3. As before, I have flagged a few items where I did not capture a complete question and/or answer and then there were several items flagged for follow-up that may or may not have already happened but the response should probably be documented. After you have a chance to review then I'll send the notes over to Jeff. Hope things cooled off for you down there!

Thanks.
