Works for me.

I think we should also chart out approximate times, shooting for a total of no more than 1:15 hours (giving Barry ~30 minutes for Q&A). Otherwise, we risk running out of time for the most important parts of the presentation. This afternoon, we should identify/convey a hand signal, grunt, or something for the presenter to wrap it up or speed things along.

Cathy and Garwin,

I've been putting some more thought into who might present the lead of slides and figured it would be wise to flush out the presenters for all of the slides to go over with Maria at noon. Here is what I am thinking, subject to change, of course, but just some thoughts as my coffee continues to do it's magic:

Intro comments: 3-stooges and Maria

1-5: Barb (as lead biologist it would show leadership and ownership)

6: Biop flow chart (species): Naseem (ESA Section 7 coordinator should go over analytical framework)

7: Naseem or Brian (Baseline slide)

8-10: Shasta slides: Evan and Cathy

11-12: Shasta uncertainties: Cathy

13-15: Clear Creek: Sarah

16-18: American: Brian or Joe (Probably Brian)

19-23: Stan and SJ: Barb

24-29: Delta: Jeff

30-31: SRKW: Dan

32-33: I&S-WR/SR: Brian

34-35: I&S-SH/GS: Joe

36: I&S: SRKW: Dan
