Checking out:

- American section is done (clean, no outstanding comments, EndNotes done)
- Also the EndNoting for Clear Creek is 100% done
- Amount or extent of incidental take in the American River Division is done
- Terms and conditions for American not done

- A couple terms and conditions for American exist in the current document
- Comments from Brian/Joe suggested writing 2 more. I'm working on this.
- Right now, my only plan for tomorrow is to finish this

It's possible, but that shouldn't have gotten rid of the EndNoting. And, yes, I'm going back to an earlier version so hopefully we won't have to completely reformat.

Could it be a side effect of accepting all edits and deleting all comments before peer review? If so, maybe look at the track changes version right before the clean peer review version.

Actually, somehow all of the links and citation has disappeared from the American, so it will take longer to fix.

-- Please confirm that the American River Division effects section is done (clean, no outstanding comments, EndNotes done).

- There is one comment to address in American and it is just fact checking a portion of text suggested by a reviewer. I am doing that now. I don't expect it to take more than an hour and will update when it is complete.
- All else is complete

-- Please confirm that you are done quantifying the amount or extent of incidental take in the American River Division.

- I am done quantifying take and entering it into the ITS tables. I believe the plan is to have some sections of text for the tribes lumped together, for stressors like temp. This has been started, but is not completed.

-- Status of terms and conditions?

- One comment in the American section recommended an additional T&C. I need to check if this was ever added.
