On the peer review front, I intend to get John Ferguson a list of potential reviewers today. I suggest Matt do the same (though, knowing Matt, he probably already did...overachiever...).

John has worked out the rest of his commitments to get the peer review task to fit in to this FY if some other items are moved around. He's assuming 6 total reviewers (perhaps 3 for each Service) for 10 workdays (a two week review). If any of that seems counter to your assumptions or desires, please let me know.

Kaylee, I'm working on a list for you/Derek for today.

Paul was going to look into the tech editor...that's the main outstanding item.

Other than that, nothing else on my front. Happy to have the meeting time back but sad to not hang out with you ;).

I don't think so. I have a doctor's appointment anyways, and can't make this one. Also, next Tuesday our whole team is going to rolling up our BA review until 3pm. Maybe we can meet late Tuesday to compare notes on the BA reviews.

Hi everyone, Do we need to touch base on anything today before our call with Paul tomorrow morning? For us, our time is dominated by reviewing the BA. If there is anything related to the peer review that we should discuss, please chime in.
