This didn't make it past me or Barb...b/c I thought Barb was incorporating it into something Howard had already provided to her.

So here is a TOC that Evan did for levels more detailed than what Howard's gets to. Take a quick look. Some of our work is def already done.

So maybe I can get to this later today -- merge the two and reflect the other recent conversations on stressors, etc.

Hey Barbara,

Based on comments on the deconstructed action I put the attached table of contents for the effects section. I think it will help but it doesn't get all the way to species.
